

Environmental Policy

BoKlok builds affordable homes for ordinary people. We strive to minimise our environmental impact, not only in the here and now but also for generations to come.

Our environmental management system is ISO 14001 certified and our environmental work emanates from BoKlok's sustainability strategy and our competitive business strategy of low prices generated by low costs.

Our environmental responsibility encompasses:

- Complying with environmental laws and other environmental requirements
- Improving energy efficiency throughout the lifespan of the BoKlok home
- Economising with material and resources by minimising waste and focusing on renewables
- Avoiding products, material and methods that could constitute a health and environmental hazard
- Harmonising our environmental work with the environmental work of Skanska and IKEA
- Working closely with customers and suppliers to minimise our environmental impact
- Guiding employees on how to minimise our environmental impact

Our environmental initiatives propel the company forward by creating new business opportunities.

We are constantly looking at new ways of streamlining our operations and our environmental management system to minimise our environmental impact.
